

Eco-friendly Toys

From Dipika Mirpuri,
Your Guide to Toys.
Friday January 25, 2008

Go Green!

Safe and eco-friendly toys are the way to go this year. Eco-friendly toys are made from natural, safe materials which do not harm the environment. Eco-friendly, or green toys, as they are known as, are not hard to find if you know where to look! There are certain speciality manufacturers who take great pride in their eco-friendly products. Some of these manufacturers include the German company Haba, ImagiPlay and others. Do your planet a big favor and pick up these eco-friendly toys today!

1. Xeko Trading Card Game

View Full-Size

Xeko

This wonderfully packaged Xeko trading card game is eco-friendly from the word go! Right from the recycled packaging (which looks lovely, by the way) to the very theme of the game, the Xeko trading card game is environmentally friendly. But wait, there's more! The Xeko game teaches your kids lots of interesting stuff about the earth and it's inhabitants. I absolutely love the look and feel of this game. Kids who tried this game found it totally cool. It may be a good idea to introduce this trading card game to your kids, especially if they display an interest in their environment and like math and science. The Xeko trading card game has themes like Mission Costa Rica, Indonesia and Madagascar. All trading cards are interchangeable.

Manufacturer's Site